HCCF issues grant for “Digging in Their Heels”

The Hancock County Community Foundation (HCCF) recently awarded The League of Women Voters of Hancock County a grant from the Connecting Community Fund, a component fund of HCCF. The $1,000 grant will help fund a presentation of “Digging in Their Heels,” a one-woman show about women getting the vote that is packed with humor and history. The show was written by and stars Sally Perkins and will be performed Sept. 21 at 7 p.m. at the H.J. Ricks Centre for the Arts in Greenfield.

Through the Connecting Community Fund, HCCF supports public opportunities that encourage residents to enjoy community gathering spots and activities where people can play, eat, learn, and socialize.

HCCF provides philanthropic leadership by encouraging giving, learning, community pride and civic engagement. Working with caring individuals, families, and organizations to create or grow existing permanent endowment funds is critical to the organization’s mission. These funds generate income that is distributed in the form of grants and scholarships to enrich and enhance life in Hancock County, as well as support the donor’s favorite charitable causes, both at home and afar forever. HCCF has granted more than $14 million since its inception in 1992.
